

Schedule:

- 10.00 Story Machine
(Castle Black)
- 11.00 The Magnificent One Day Comic Book Factory
(Castle Black – & 11.30 Dragonpit)
- 16.00 Web Series – the future of film & TV?
(Castle Black)
- 17.00 The Clandestine
(King's Landing)
- 17.30 Martial Arts Display
(King's Landing)

Media

We have a variety of other panels covering various media types including comic books, film, TV, web series and an awesome martial arts display featuring many well known characters from film, TV and literature.

Story Machine

An informal introduction to; growing a story, screenplay structure, language and the development process. Screenwriters Richard Crawford and Spence Wright will also be happy to take questions on all the highs and lows of writing for the screen.

The Magnificent One Day Comic Book Factory

Three local comic book creators challenge TitanCon members to write, draw and produce an exclusive convention comic book in the space of one day. Join Andy Luke, Paddy Brown and Paul J Holden and take up the challenge. All proceeds go to Action Cancer.

Web Series – the future of film and TV?

Will the web series follow in the footsteps of digital music and eBooks and change the face of the film and television industry? Milana Vayntrub and Joseph Campo put forth their case that the web series is the future. Fighting the corner of film we have Spence Wright and Richard Crawford. This could be a brutal fight to the bitter end.

The Clandestine

The Clandestine is a comedy webseries about a group of geeks and one smoking hot chick who form a secret outlaw motorcycle club. The cast and crew including Milana Vayntrub and Joseph Campo join us to talk geeks on bikes.

Martial Arts Display

David Brashaw (co-creator of Guards! Guards!) is a World WKC gold medallist in karate kata demonstration. David is bringing along some of Ireland's most skilled martial artists to put on an incredible display featuring many well known characters from film, TV and literature all in full costume. You won't want to miss this action!