

William Simpson

William Simpson is a storyboard artist working on HBO's Game of Thrones, but he is far better known as a comic artist and illustrator. Over his 30 year career Will has worked for all the major comic houses: Dark Horse, DC, Vertigo, Marvel and 2000AD.

Will created all of the excellent artwork and animations that were featured in the Game of Thrones season one DVD and BluRay Extras.

William was at Belfast Moot 2 in 2010 and TitanCon 2011. A fantastic guest who brings a great deal of insight from the other side of the camera.

Emma Andrews

Emma Andrews works in the drapes department on HBO's Game of Thrones. Emma tells us that last year for the season two production she was mainly making tents and banners and more tents and yet more and more tents! During season one she did a lot of embroidery including the wee bits that Sansa and Arya are working on when we first meet them in the opening episode. Emma also stitched the stag and hand of the king emblems into the chair backs of the Small Council seats.

Emma will be running a Dothraki Jewellery Workshop offering the opportunity for TitanCon members to create their very own pieces of Dothraki jewellery.
